Compromise Plan To Solve Controversy Is Aim Of U.N. Council

By PIERRE J. HUSS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The United States planned new diplomatic attempts today to map a compromise plan for solving the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute under U. N. auspices.

The Security Council postponed for ten days its next hearing of the danger-ridden impasse involving Britain and Iran.

Iranian Spokesman Dr. Ali Gholi Ardabili, who asked for and got the ten-day postponement, said that Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh plans to appear personally before the Security Council to present his government's viewpoint and defend the oil nationalization policy.

Test Possible Means
U. S. sources indicated that the interim period would be put to good use in testing every possible means of opening the way toward a peaceful and friendly settlement of the dispute.

Although the British and Iranian stand fast to their conflicting policies and viewpoints on the oil issue, Britain's chief U. N. delegate, Sir Gladwyn Jebb, left the door wide open to U. S. or other mediation efforts.

The bridge is taking care of much traffic which formerly flowed over the downtown business section.

Estimate Three And Half Billion Dollars Flood Loss No Compromise With Britain Is Policy Of Iran

By ROBERT CLARK (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The government estimates damage resulting from the recent floods in the Missouri valley totals today about three and one-half billion dollars.

This was the figure which came to light as a house appropriations subcommittee made public closed door testimony by A. E. House, personal representative of defense mobilizer Wilson.

House placed the latest figures on direct flood damage at two and one-half billion dollars, with another billion dollars in indirect losses.

The testimony was released as the house appropriations committee prepared to act on President Truman's request for 40 million dollars in federal aid for the flood-stricken area.

The 50-member group has been summoned to vote tomorrow on recommendations of the five-member subcommittee which held hearings on the request.

The subcommittee's recommendations are subject to approval by the full group. There (Continued on Page Two)

British Labor Government Is Under Attack

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—British conservative newspapers attacked Britain's labor government today for "surrendering" to the "infiltration" and "cowardice" in its dealing with Iran and criticized America's role in the oil dispute.

Conservative leader Winston Churchill is expected to make the withdrawal of British technicians from the Abadan oil refinery a major campaign issue later today in a speech at Liverpool.

The London Daily Mail accused the government of cowardice, saying that Prime Minister Clement Attlee's "ineptitude" is "endangering world peace."

War On World Scale?
"If Russia were to walk into the place we have vacated in Iran, it is not impossible that war would break out on a world scale."

The Daily Telegraph described the withdrawal as "the blackest page in the whole history of British diplomacy."

The Telegraph also declared: "The American failed to realize the implications of what is going on in Iran and act in fitting firmness in supporting what was by no means solely a British interest."

Government sources said the cabinet, while placing the case before the United Nations security council, has little hope that the U. N. can do anything to relieve the situation.

The government, failing to achieve at least a compromise, was thought likely to abandon the Abadan refinery and industry "forever."

Gen. Bradley Is Confident U.N. Forces Can Win

Returns From Tour Of Korean Front Well Satisfied

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
TOKYO, Oct. 2.—Gen. Omar N. Bradley returned tonight from Korea where he warned that the Allied forces are strong enough to crush any Red offensive that might signal final breakdown of the suspended truce talks.

Ending a two-day personal inspection tour of the front, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff declared the United Nations must have "equal rights" at the conference site before resuming the armistice negotiations.

He then flew back to Tokyo, accompanied by Gen. Matthew D. Ridgway, UN Supreme Commander, and Charles Bohlen, State Department expert on Russian. Their plane landed at Haneda airport at 7:55 p.m. (5:55 a.m., EST).

Voices Confidence
Just before taking off from Seoul, Bradley voiced confidence that the UN forces he inspected are able to turn back any major assault the Reds may undertake if they decide to fight it out rather than talk peace.

"We certainly have enough men over here," he told newsmen, "to keep anyone from running us over."

"I do not think they can hurt us."

You hear a lot of fine reports about the Eighth Army and I would like to say that they are not a bit exaggerated."

Brooklyn And New York Battle In Second Game

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The wheels of commerce slowed down to a walk in baseball-mad New York today as the city's eight million people turned their attention to the second game of the National League "play-off" between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants.

Business halted along. No one seemed concerned about the trend of the Wall Street market, what the United Nations was doing about the Iran dispute or the world's political situation.

The thing that mattered was the fate of "the Dubs" and "the Giants."

Legislature's Tax Stalemate Is Holding Up State Aid

By JOHN PAGET (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—Legislative recess maneuvers today ran afoul of a Justice department warning that indecision on supplemental tax money has forced a delay in payments involving $50,000,000 for hospitals, colleges and many other state-aided institutions.

The House Rules committee further confused recess proposals by suggesting that the General Assembly shelve its deliberations only to November 12 instead of December 10 as recommended by the Senate.

The House last night summoned its full membership for today's session after only a corporate's guard reported that what was supposed to be a cut and dried agreement to the Senate recess approval. All Senators are expected back in their seats tomorrow.

The Justice department's ruling on non-preferred appropriations was carried in the Senate Republican caucus by Chief Deputy Attorney General H. Clayton Adams. It was based on an earlier decision by the State Supreme Court.

Majority Whip Fred P. Harg, Jr., of Somerset, said Adams advised the 10 Republicans in the caucus—ordinarily 30 GOP Senators are present—that available money must be used for preferred appropriations. These include operation of state government and public (Continued on Page Two)

S. recognition and aid.

The day's communist jet losses were the greatest since last December 22 when six MIGs also were destroyed in combat.

Thirteen MIG
The latest round of air fighting brought the 48-hour box score to 13 red jets hit, including eight definitely destroyed, as against no American jet losses.

Two of the sleek, sweeping MIGs were shot down late Tuesday morning in duels involving 120 aircraft.

Four more were wiped out, one was probably destroyed and another damaged in a 12-plane afternoon battle in which 32 Sabre pilots took on odds of two and a half to one when they tangled with 80 MIGs.

The later dogfights screamed, swirled and streaked through the lowering autumn skies for 25 minutes before the surviving enemy jets were given back to their built-free Manchurian bases.

Still later in the day two additional but smaller jet clashes occurred when 10 Sabres jumped American F-80 Shooting Stars but neither side suffered damage in these encounters.

Storm Warning Given Florida

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The weather bureau today warned residents of the west coast of Florida to prepare for a tropical storm that is due to lash inland from the Gulf of Mexico with winds of 50 to 55 miles an hour.

The storm is reported to be located about 140 miles west of Fort Meyers, Fla., and moving east-northeastward at 12 miles an hour.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Coast Guard reported that planes will be sent out to search the Gulf for a ship ripped by the storm. The 93-foot vessel Kerry Mae with nine aboard last reported that she was taking water but that her pumps were able to take care of it.

Another small craft, the Gyss, was reached by the cutter Tampa and three persons were taken off the ship. The Tampa will tow the shipless craft into port today.

When a train's out front by some distance, and the pennant seems only a form, the winners are cheered for their classical play, this behavior's a sort of norm. But the team that deserves all the honors is the team that seems hopelessly flummoxed, with their chances most nil and their struggle in vain, and glory for them rather dimmed. But those are the lads I admire, who never say die while there's hope, for sometimes they overhaul teams out in front, and then the snarl repeats. Which is just why I root for the Glants, they made it the tough sort of way, and I'm rooting for them to romp home with the flag, it's bright 80 today.

Of British Must Take Place Promptly

TEHRAN, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Iran's deputy premier, Hussein Fatemi, pronounced a policy of "no compromise" with Britain today and said the evacuation of British personnel from the Abadan refinery must be completed promptly.

Fatemi told newsmen: "The evacuation of the British must be completed on October 4. No excuse and no delay will be accepted."

Threats Are Made

At the same time threats again were made to destroy the refinery—the world's largest—if British troops intervened. In such an event, it was said that the British would be able to "take away only the earth."

Britain's consul-general at Khuzestan, who was declared persona non grata by Iran, will leave the country tomorrow with the more than 300 Britons expelled from the refinery.

British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd told a news conference that Maj. Francis Capper will depart with the British technicians whose expulsions have been placed before the United Nations Security Council.

Meanwhile, opposition deputy Ali Shustari, who had taken refuge in the majlis when extremists threatened him with assassination, said he had reversed his position and now supported the oil nationalization policy of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

Anti-Western Feeling

Mossadegh, in a new manifestation of anti-western feeling, banned the American war film, "The Steel Helmet," which deals with the war in Korea. Earlier showings in Tehran brought communist demonstrations.

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Elder statesman Cordell Hull marked his 80th birthday today with the warning that "we cannot survive as a free country if the rest of the world is enslaved."

The architect of the United Nations took the occasion to tell his countrymen that "the eyes of the peoples that are still free and of the unfortunate victims of communist despotism are fixed on this country."

"The cause of the preservation or restoration of their freedom is of the utmost concern to us as well as to them."

"We cannot survive as a free people if the rest of the world is enslaved."

Hull, who served as secretary of state during most of World War II, declared that:

Needs Of Times

"In these critical times, our people, and all peoples that prize freedom, need deeper religious faith, wider educational and cultural interchange, firmer cooperation within the United Nations and in all other means of international relations."

A prepared statement, issued at the state department, showed that the octogenarian leader who came from the hills of Tennessee to become one of the leaders of the nation, is still constantly aware of world events, though, in his own words, he regards himself as "a sitter on the sidelines."

He made no special plans for the day, other than his usual daily automobile ride around the city and a short walk in the gardens of the hotel.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—New information was promised today by House investigators starting a full-fledged investigation of alleged corruption in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

A spokesman said witnesses at the public hearings which get underway Wednesday will probably "name names" other than those already brought to light in connection with alleged income tax violations.

He indicated that those cited will be officials or employees connected with internal revenue offices in Boston, New York, St. Louis or San Francisco.

Will Scrutinize

Rep. King (D) Calif., chairman of the special ways and means subcommittee conducting the probe, says his group will scrutinize especially the circumstances surrounding:

The suspension of San Francisco tax collector James G. Smyth; the indictment of Boston collector Denis W. Delaney; the resignation of St. Louis collector James P. Dogfights Over
Korea Involve
Total Of 241 Planes

By CECIL BROWNLOW
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Oct. 2.—American Sabrejet pilots shot down a record-tying total of six Russian-type jets and hit two others over northwest Korea today in dogfights involving 241 planes.

All the participating 96 American jets returned safely from the second straight day of major air battles that ranged as much as nearly six miles above the earth's surface.

The day's communist jet losses were the greatest since last December 22 when six MIGs also were destroyed in combat.

Thirteen Hit

The latest round of air fighting brought the 48-hour box score to 13 red jets hit, including eight definitely destroyed, as against no American jet losses.

Two of the sleek, sweeping MIGs were shot down late Tuesday morning in duels involving 129 aircraft.

Four more were wiped out, one was probably destroyed and another damaged in a 112-plane afternoon battle in which 32 Sabre pilots took on odds of two and a half to one when they tangled with 80 MIGs.

The later dogfights screamed, swirled and streaked through the lowering autumn skies for 25 minutes before the surviving enemy jets were driven back to their bomb-free Manchurian bases.

Still later in the day two additional smaller jet clashes occurred when flights of MIGs jumped American F-80 Shooting Stars but neither side suffered damage in these encounters.

Storm Warning
Given Florida

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The weather bureau today warned residents of the west coast of Florida to prepare for a tropical storm that is due to lash inland from the Gulf of Mexico with winds of 50 to 55 miles an hour.

The storm is reported to be located about 140 miles west of Fort Meyers, Fla., and moving east-northeastward at 12 miles an hour.

The center of the storm is expected to reach the coast in the Fort Meyers-Tampa area this afternoon.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Coast Guard reported that planes will be sent out to search the gulf for a ship crippled by the storm. The 93-foot vessel Kerry Mac with nine aboard last reported that she was taking water but that her pumps were able to take care of it.

Another small craft, the Gypsy, was reached by the cutter Tampa and three persons were taken off the ship. The Tampa will tow the rudderless craft into port today.

When a team's out front by some distance, and the pennant seems only a form, the winners are cheered for their classical play, this behavior's a sort of a norm. But the team that deserves all the honors is the team that seems hopelessly trimmed, with their chances most nil and their struggle in vain, and glory for them rather dimmed. But those are the lads I admire, who never say die while there's hope, for sometimes they overhaul teams out in front, and use the smart experts' dope. Which is just why I root for the Giants, they made it the tough sort of way, and I'm rooting for them to romp home with the flag, it's bright 80 today.

Says Poultry Will Hold Own Against Bee, Pork In Market

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Poultry will hold its own against beef and pork in today's food market.

Such was the cheering word offered by C. C. Warren of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at the annual Northeastern Poultry Producers Council in the state farm show building at Harrisburg.

He told poultrymen from 13 states that they need not fear real competition if they "produce good poultry attractively packaged and displayed, in as many forms as the consumer wants, and at the same time keep the prices reasonable."

Warren told poultrymen that such a campaign could raise poultry consumption from an average of 35 in 50 pounds per person a year.

Dr. Kenneth Flood, agriculture economist at Pennsylvania State college, told delegates that inefficient producers may find it difficult to stay in business on the face of record high costs and somewhat lower prices.

He warned them to expect stiffer competition from mid-west farms in 1952 even though the area supplied one-third of the eggs now shipped to New York and Philadelphia.

Generally, Flood said, costs will be higher, feed supplies less and prices stronger.

Poultrymen were told that the National Production Authority is being pressed to assure the industry the necessary materials to maintain high production.

W. D. Termonah, director of the USDA's poultry branch, said all phases of production, processing, and marketing are encompassed in the program to assure a steady flow of needed materials.

schools and cannot be allocated for non-preferred items, line with the Appellate Court rule. The $80,000,000 made available for government operation by Gov. John S. Adams said.

The fund of more than $90,000,000 involved in the dispute ordinarily is allocated quarterly to the non-preferred recipients.

Non-Preferred Allocation

The high court defined non-preferred allocations chiefly as those affecting the following: state aided hospitals, colleges, universities, medical schools, nurses training, cancer research, education of veterans orphans, and homes for children and the aged.

The 1951-52 budget proposes $12,650,000 for hospitals, $27,730,000 for colleges and universities, $622,000 for homes.

The rules also would cover, Flood said, the $1,500,000 Point mark improvement in Pittsburgh and the $2,000,000 independence state project in Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania State College, Flood disclosed, already has borrowed about one-fourth of its anticipated $16,000,000 biennial allocation from private banks to prevent a breakdown of operation.

Flood said that no money for non-preferred items has been paid since the 1951-52 biennium began last June as a result of the wrangle over the supplemental funds for the billion dollar budget plus budget proposed by Gov. John S. Adams last March.

P. T. A. IS IDEAL

It would be difficult to find a more closely woven group than Parents, Teachers Association. This organization has never been a flimsy affair of children and adults never deviated from that concept. It reaches a zenith of achievement.

Through it teachers know and respect the wishes of parents and parents know and respect the problems of teachers; their meeting ground is the child.

The ideals of the organization is never nebulous. It is practical, reaching to the roots of our Republic. A healthy Nation cannot long endure with sickly children, under-nourished children, underprivileged children; P. T. A. works indefatigably to erase these curses on our National conscience.

to Britain and aside by the recent World Court decision, Jebb significantly added:

"Given a minimum of good will there is absolutely no reason why an arrangement entirely satisfactory to both sides should not be worked out and worked out quickly."

But it cannot be worked out at all if the Iranian government continues to rush madly down a steep hill in pursuit of an illusory objective and if it therefore seems essential to do something to arrest this apparently suicidal process."

After a discussion

The council adopted the agenda for discussion of the British resolution after providing Soviet and Yugoslav opposition by a 9 to 2 vote.

The measure seeks U. N. intervention to cancel an order by Iran for the expulsion of more than 300 oil technicians from Abadan and demands that the Teheran government comply with the World Court ruling of July 5 to keep a status quo until the oil nationalization dispute has been settled.

It also held the floor for an hour yesterday, appealing against the "suicidal process" and "insane actions" of the Iranian government. He emphasized that the British government's voluntary order to the oil technicians to quit Iran by Wednesday and post the Iranian ultimatum by 24 hours does not affect his demand for council intervention by Thursday.

In Interest of Peace

A British spokesman maintained that although the demand for cancellation of the Iranian ultimatum was lost and that Britain had yielded in the interest of peace, the council would be urged to press for "restitution" of British oil rights to the Abadan fields.

Diplomatic experts believe that Britain yielded to the Iranian evacuation ultimatum after ascertaining that the necessary seven votes were lacking in the Security Council for calling on Iran to cancel this action.

The exact time of the council's next meeting has been left to the discretion of its chairman, Juan Carlos unit of Brazil, who has instructions to summon the body the moment Mossadeq arrives from Iran.

The scene near the ticket booths at the Polo Grounds was quieter than in Brooklyn yesterday when fans broke down four iron gates in a callous riot. By noon fully 20,000 fans had arrived and a "sell-out" crowd of more than 50,000 was anticipated.

Their pilots said that in the day's actions the MIG flyers apparently tried to disrupt, with fighter-bomber attacks on Red ground targets, rather than engage the American jets in air combat. But the Red jet pilots were forced into battle wherever they appeared.

LIFE'S LONGEST HOURS

The longest hours of life, often experienced as a child, usually precede some simple, anticipated pleasure. As simple pleasures lose their enchantment and age bends one's back, time is all too fleeting. Months seem like seconds, years like minutes, and life is only a day. But everyone who lives long enough must grow old. The aged of our time are fortunate indeed, for with life expectancy on the increase, geriatrics (medical treatment of the aged) has become an important medical specialty. Nutritional deficiencies and diseases of the aged are more thoroughly understood, and proper treatment is available. Longer life and better health for all are the result.

AMERICAN JET PILOTS VICTORS IN AIR BATTLES

Tuesday night that all participating American jets were accounted for at their bases.

Their pilots said that in the day's actions the MIG flyers apparently tried to disrupt allied fighter-bomber attacks on Red ground targets, rather than engage the American jets in air combat. But the Red jet pilots were forced into battle wherever they appeared.

On the ground, reinforced North Korean Red troops in the eastern sector recaptured a hill which South Koreans had seized Monday.

The height lies east of "Heartbreak Ridge" where the communists rushed fresh troops into the area north of Yanggu to replenish their casualty-depleted regiments. An Eighth Army source called this enemy buildup "defensive."

From the two "Heartbreak" crests they hold the Reds poured intensified artillery and mortar fire on American and French troops clinging to the slopes of the ridge where some of the war's bitterest fighting has raged.

Reflections

By Howard Reynolds

P. T. A. IS IDEAL

It would be difficult to find a more closely woven group than Parents, Teachers Association. This organization has never been for the benefit of children and has never deviated from that concept. It reaches a zenith of service.

Through it teachers know and respect the wishes of parents and parents know and respect the problems of teachers; their meeting ground is the child.

The ideals of the organization is never nebulous. It is practical, reaching to the grass roots of our Republic. A healthy Nation cannot long endure with sickly children, under-nourished children, underprivileged children; P. T. A. works indefatigably to erase these curses on our National escutcheon.

Our heritage, our ideals, our future stability are wrapped in the welfare of our children. P. T. A. guards them jealously. It is a noble organization.

LIFE'S LONGEST HOURS

The longest hours of life, often experienced as a child, usually precede some simple, anticipated pleasure. As simple pleasures lose their enchantment and age bends one's back, time is all too fleeting. Months seem like seconds, years like minutes, and life is only a day. But everyone who lives long enough must grow old. The aged of our time are fortunate indeed, for with life expectancy on the increase, geriatrics (medical treatment of the aged) has become an important medical specialty. Nutritional deficiencies and diseases of the aged are more thoroughly understood, and proper treatment is available. Longer life and better health for all are the result.

Final Action On Foreign Aid Bill Runs Into Delay

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Final congressional action on the seven and one-half billion dollar foreign aid bill was delayed today by a parliamentary dispute in the Senate.

A small group of Republicans, led by Sen. Dworkshak, Idaho, is trying to have the bill sent back to the Senate-House conference committee.

Dworkshak charges the conferees exceeded their powers in a section granting authority to the president to make transfers between funds earmarked for military and economic aid in Europe.

Accessing the conference committee of a violation of Senate rules, Dworkshak attacked a provision which would permit the president to use ten percent of the five billion dollar European military fund for economic aid or ten percent of the one billion dollar economic fund for military purposes.

Appeal Is Lodged

The senator contended that because the Senate must first decide today whether to uphold the vice president or to overturn his ruling and open the way for a further conference on the bill.

Prospects are that the Senate will sustain Dworkshak, but not without extended debate covering both the parliamentary conflict and the general features of the new mutual security act.

Refused Admittance To Workhouse; Staff To Be Sent Back

Eugene Henry Staff will again be sent to the Allegheny County Workhouse but whether or not he is accepted is a question.

Staff was sentenced December 1949 to two years in the workhouse upon a morals charge, but due to legal technicalities, appeals and the like, was not on bond until July 1950. Since July 1950 he has been in the Lawrence County Jail. His case in the meantime went to the appellate courts, his commitment was lost, and he remained here.

A new commitment was prepared and he was sent to the Allegheny County workhouse where he was refused admittance. The workhouse authorities said his term was about up and they would not take him.

A hearing was held here Monday afternoon to determine his status and Judge W. Walter Graham ordered him sent back to the workhouse but sent a copy of his sentence along.

If he is accepted by the workhouse this time his term will be up in about 3 1/2 months. Two months are allowed off for good behavior in the workhouse for the first year at sentence and three months for the second. This would give him five months off the two years and he has already spent about fifteen months in the local jail.

Thirteen Allegheny County Milk Dealers Held For Violations

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Thirteen Allegheny county milk dealers were sued today for violation of Office of Price Stabilization ceilings in the milk price fight between the OPS and the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission.

The suit, filed in the U.S. District court in Pittsburgh, charged that the 13 dealers have been selling milk above the OPS ceiling since July 17.

On that date the Milk Control commission permitted a milk price increase to go into effect. Six days later, the OPS refused to allow the increase, although the Milk commission has insisted that its ruling stands.

The government has asked an injunction against the 13 dealers who have been selling milk at 23 cents a quart retail and at 21 cents a quart wholesale.

Condition Of Roads Causes Mass Meeting

Road Supervisors Criticized For Road Conditions

At a mass meeting of citizens of Mahoning township, held in the Mahoning Grange hall, Monday evening, road supervisors Francis D. Gregg, Nick Conti and Joseph J. Gennaro, Jr., were accused of neglect of their duty in maintaining the roads of the township, and court action is planned, it was indicated.

R. D. Walter presided at the meeting, and a committee consisting of Frank Fuzzaloro, Fatsy Deane, Joe Kuhn and Francis Crawford, was named to secure funds and gather information, which will be presented to the courts.

There were around 200 in attendance at the meeting, and another meeting planned for two weeks hence, on October 15, will probably bring out many more, complainants state.

The contention of those in attendance at the meeting is that the supervisors have not been doing their best to keep up the roads of the township, and demand was made that they take action to put the roads in better condition before winter sets in.

Instances were cited of bad conditions, which it is claimed, the supervisors are aware of, and have done nothing to remedy.

'Dating' Teacher Resigns, Squabble In Illinois Ends

AMBOY, Ill., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Stanley W. Gibson declared himself officially "at liberty" today and pondered the question of whether he will remain in the teaching profession.

Gibson, whose battle against dismissal for dating a 17-year-old pupil drew nationwide attention last week, resigned his Amboy, Ill., high school teaching job in a compromise settlement with the Amboy board of education.

Friends said that Gibson has left Amboy without leaving a forwarding address. They quoted him as saying:

"I'm just going to drive around the countryside in northern Illinois."

The 31-year-old divorced English instructor had been ordered dismissed as of Nov. 2 for continuing to date Joyce Underhill, the senior class valedictorian last spring after being warned his actions were not considered "ethical."

Terms of the settlement which followed public hearings on the teacher's case last week were not announced. However, Gibson was permitted to resign and the board presumably withdrew its dismissal.

WHO DECIDES HOW MUCH A STOCK WILL COST ME?

You may say, "Everybody knows the answer to that question." Unfortunately, everybody doesn't! A good many people have some very wrong ideas about stock prices. And that kind of misinformation doesn't do anyone any good. So, let's look at the facts.

When you buy or sell stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the price is decided by you and all other investors bidding for, or offering to sell, that stock. The most a buyer will pay and the least an owner will take set the price. The price is not decided or "set" by Wall Street or by the Stock Exchange. It is not decided by "big" bankers, "big" brokers or "big" anybody else.

Remember, each company listed on the New York Stock Exchange has just so many shares outstanding. And the orders of people all over the country to buy or sell those shares come to the trading floor of the Exchange. There, prices are arrived at in open competition between brokers representing buyers and sellers... and are published promptly for all to see.

In this process, prices reflect the basic law of supply and demand. That is why stock prices change. When public demand for a stock is greater than the amount of stock offered for sale by other investors, then the price is very apt to go up. When the amount of stock offered for sale is greater than demand, then the price will probably go down.

An investor's decision to buy or sell a particular stock reflects his judgment of what it is worth to him. Member firms of the New York Stock Exchange are glad to answer any of your questions about investments... without obligation to you.

Final Action On Foreign Aid Bill Runs Into Delay

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Final congressional action on the seven and one-half billion dollar foreign aid bill was delayed today by a parliamentary dispute in the Senate.

A small group of Republicans, led by Sen. Dworshak, Idaho, is trying to have the bill sent back to the Senate-House conference committee.

Dworshak charges the conferees exceeded their powers in a section granting authority to the president to make transfers between funds earmarked for military and economic aid in Europe. Accusing the conference committee of a violation of Senate rules, Dworshak attacked a provision which would permit the president to use ten percent of the five billion dollar European military fund for economic aid or ten percent of the one billion dollar economic fund for military purposes.

Appeal Is Lodged

The senator contended that because both the Senate and House bills fixed the transferability rate at five percent, the conferees were bound to accept that figure and not increase it.

After long legal arguments, during which the work of the conference was defended by Sen. Russell (D) Ga., Vice President Barkley overruled Dworshak's point of order. An immediate appeal was lodged by Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich.

Before dealing with the conference report as a whole, therefore, the Senate must first decide today whether to uphold the vice president or to overturn his ruling and open the way for a further conference on the bill.

Prospects are that the Senate will sustain Barkley, but not without extended debate covering both the parliamentary conflict and the general features of the new mutual security act.

Contractors are in the process of painting the interior of the New Castle post office, quite an extensive job, as the interior of the building is quite commodious.

The old color scheme is being followed out in most instances, but in other rooms, a different color scheme is being used. When completed, the building will present a pleasing appearance to the citizens of the community.

Release Boy Scouts Camping Dates For 1952 Agawam Season

Ernest D. Hawk, chairman of the Camping and Activities committee, Lawrence County Council of Boy Scouts, announced today that the 1952 season at official Scout Camp Agawam, will run for a period of five weeks, beginning Sunday, July 6, and ending Saturday, August 9.

This action was taken at a meeting of the council camping and activities committee, Monday, in the Scout office.

Improvements for next season were discussed and included installation of outdoor showers, drinking fountains, the erection of a troop camp site, away from the present site, and needed repairs in maintenance.

Present at the meeting were Ernest D. Hawk, Dale Clobus, Richard Kanengeiser, Alfred Beavon, Clifford L. Jones, and J. C. Hildebrand.

The Lawrence County Council is a member agency of the New Castle and vicinity, Community Chest.

Cherol Completes Twenty-Five Years Service At Richmans

James Cherol, 1204 Wilmington avenue, has just completed 25 years continuous service as head of the tailoring department at the Richman Bros. store in New Castle.

In honor of his quarter century of faithful service the Richman Bros. company presented Mr. Cherol with a 25-year service pin, with five diamonds—one for each five years with the company.

He came to this city in 1907 from Italy and worked as a tailor in clothing establishments throughout the city before starting at Richmans in 1926.

Meanwhile, Mr. Cherol continues as head tailor at the local store and expressed the desire that he might spend 25 more years in the same manner.

Condition Of Roads Causes Mass Meeting

Road Supervisors Criticized For Road Conditions

At a mass meeting of citizens of Mahoning township, held in the Mahoning Grange hall, Monday evening, road supervisors Francis D. Gregg, Nick Conti and Joseph J. Gennaro, Jr., were accused of neglect of their duty in maintaining the roads of the township, and court action is planned, it was indicated.

R. D. Walter presided at the meeting, and a committee consisting of Frank Fazzaloro, Patsy DePrano, Joe Kuhn and Francis Cracraft, was named to secure funds and gather information, which will be presented to the courts.

There were around 200 in attendance at the meeting, and another meeting planned for two weeks hence, on October 15, will probably bring out many more, complainants state.

The contention of those in attendance at the meeting is that the supervisors have not been doing their best to keep up the roads of the township, and demand was made that they take action to put the roads in better condition before winter sets in.

Instances were cited of bad conditions, which it is claimed, the supervisors are aware of, and have done nothing to remedy.

Firemen To Meet At Portersville

Portersville - Muddy Creek Township Fire Department will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Naser building, on Route 19.

The meeting will be presided over by President William Brown and residents of the community have been invited to attend.

Discussion will be held on selection of a site, several having been considered, for a fire hall to house the fire truck and equipment of the department.

Plans will also be made for a scrap and metal drive to raise funds for the use of the department.

'Dating' Teacher Resigns, Squabble In Illinois Ends

AMBOY, Ill., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Stanley W. Gibson declared himself officially "at liberty" today and pondered the question of whether he will remain in the teaching profession.

Gibson, whose battle against dismissal for dating a 17-year-old pupil drew nationwide attention last week, resigned his Amboy, Ill., high school teaching job in a compromise settlement with the Amboy board of education.

Friends said that Gibson has left Amboy without leaving a forwarding address. They quoted him as saying:

"I'm just going to drive around the countryside in northern Illinois."

The 31-year-old divorced English instructor had been ordered dismissed as of Nov. 2 for continuing to date Joyce Underhile, the senior class valedictorian last spring after being warned his actions were not considered "ethical."

Terms of the settlement which followed public hearings on the teacher's case last week were not announced. However, Gibson was permitted to resign and the board presumably withdrew its dismissal.

order leaving his teaching record unmarred.

The teacher had contended his dates with Miss Underhile, now a University of Illinois freshman, were not detrimental to the school system and further public hearings had been scheduled for this week.

William Keho, school board president, announced in a formal statement that "this entire matter now may be considered closed."

ONE-ARMERS JAILED

HUNTINGTON, Ind.—Eight one-armed bandits shared two cells at city jail but there were no gripes about overcrowding. The "bandits" were slot machines seized in a gambling raid and locked up for safe keeping.

UNHERALDED VISITOR
MONTREAL—Louis St. Laurent of Ottawa, holder of a $2.50 radio license, dropped into the new Radio-Canada building to see how the CBS was spending his money. Few of the other visitors inspecting the newly-opened building recognized the prime minister on his informal tour.

TOO MUCH WARNING
SPOKANE, Wash.—The Spokane area safety council advocates that police patrol cars be "unmarked." The council said motorists "obey traffic ordinances when a black and white police cruiser is in the area, then lapse into bad driving habits when the police move on."

WHO DECIDES HOW MUCH A STOCK WILL COST ME?

You may say, "Everybody knows the answer to that question." Unfortunately, everybody doesn't! A good many people have some very wrong ideas about stock prices. And that kind of misinformation doesn't do anyone any good. So, let's look at the facts.

When you buy or sell stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the price is decided by you and all other investors bidding for, or offering to sell, that stock. The most a buyer will pay and the least an owner will take set the price. The price is not decided or "set" by Wall Street or by the Stock Exchange. It is not decided by "big" bankers, "big" brokers or "big" anybody else.

Remember, each company listed on the New York Stock Exchange has just so many shares outstanding. And the orders of people all over the country to buy or sell those shares come to the trading floor of the Exchange. There, prices are arrived at in open competition between brokers representing buyers and sellers... and are published promptly for all to see.

In this process, prices reflect the basic law of supply and demand. That is why stock prices change. When public demand for a stock is greater than the amount of stock offered for sale by other investors, then the price is very apt to go up. When the amount of stock offered for sale is greater than demand, then the price will probably go down.

An investor's decision to buy or sell a particular stock reflects his judgment of what it is worth to him. Member firms of the New York Stock Exchange are glad to answer any of your questions about investments... without obligation to you.

Charges Truman Lowers Curtain Of Censorship

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(INS)—President Truman was accused today of having lowered "The Iron Curtain of Censorship" over activities of government agencies.

Sen. Bricker (R) Ohio prepared to take the senate floor to call Mr. Truman's order authorizing all government agencies to withhold information "an insult to congress, to the world's best press, and to a free people."

Subversive Move
Bricker added that "it is subversive in every sense of the word."

The Ohio senator, demanding quick action on the Bricker-Capehart-Ferguson bill which would nullify the president's order, declared that security rules of defense and atomic agencies "must be tolerated in spite of inevitable abuses."

But he declared that extension of the information-withholding power to heads of some 60 other agencies—which Bricker said "inevitably will abuse it"—is improper.

Bricker said:
"The sweeping nature of this executive order suggests that Mr. Truman is more concerned with suppressing information relative to corruption, disloyalty and the general incompetence which is the trademark of his administration."

braided hereafter," he said as he climbed into the barber chair.

And everybody in the shop laughed his head off.

Oh yes, there is indignation! There has been a tremendous lot of indignation about Tom Neal biffing Franchot Tane in the eye over Barbara Payton.

Some women got terribly indignant because they found out that Tane was 45 instead of 38 as they thought. Others became all upset because the Payton girl shouldn't have changed her mind so often. Still others swooned when they saw Neal's picture in shorts.

The papers were full of pictures and front page stories, because they knew that this was food the public would relish.

In the meantime, somewhere on the inside of the paper appeared a little item about this week's casualty lists in Korea.

As he died to make men holy, let us use to make men free," wrote Julia Ward Howe.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Tim Turner reports on a country-wide tour Dr. Wilbert Hindman of U. S. C. has been making with a group of German exchange students of college age. In New York and Chicago, the boys were bitterly disappointed because no American bandits, cowboys or Indians were roaming the streets.

They were appalled by Hindman's surmise that probably all the bandits, cowboys and Indians were home filling out their income tax returns.

In Arizona they were sure they had spotted an honest-to-goodness cowboy, but he turned out to be Publisher Robert Haas of Park avenue, all dolled up in an Abercrombie & Fitch outfit.

"Just hold on," Hindman begged. "We'll soon reach an Indian reservation and you'll see the noble red man really in the rough."

Sure enough, the train stopped at an Indian trading post. Two Indians sat in front of the building. They wore feathered headdresses and beaded leather clothes. They were listening to a ball game on the radio. A sign beside them proclaimed, "Tips accepted."

Mario Lanza Sets Up Fund For Namesake

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 2.—(INS)—A homeless waif in a Pittsburgh Foundling Home will receive a formal education because a movie fan sent a clipping to singer Mario Lanza, the latest idol of the bobby-soxers.

Lanza announced that he was setting up a trust fund for the three-week-old tot who was discovered on the doorsteps of a suburban Pittsburgh apartment last Sept. 14. He was one-day old at the time.

The child was taken to Pittsburgh hospital where nurses promptly named him Mario after their screen heart throb.

When Lanza received the clipping, he immediately dispatched a $500 check to the Rosella Foundling Home where little Mario is now in residence.

Will Continue Fund
Lanza, who has a pair of youngsters of his own, Colleen, 3, and Elissa, 1, said that money will continue to be sent to be put in a trust fund for the youngster's education.

The handsome screen singer declared:
"I feel that a formal education will at least give him the equipment with which to cope with life."

Lanza said he would not be able to get back right away to see his new "friend," but that as soon as he finishes a current picture commitment he will make a trip to Pittsburgh and get acquainted with "Little Mario."

Seeks To Keep Eighth Army From Going Soft

By DON A. SCHANCHE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Oct. 2.—Gen. James A. Van Fleet said today one of the reasons for the summer and fall Korean campaigns is to keep his eighth army from going soft.

The outspoken field commander told International News Service he had three main objectives in his summer campaign in which the communists lost the "just fantastic" number of 188,237 men in four months.

The objectives were:

1. "I felt I had to reduce the enemy's potential in that area (the eastern front) to prevent a possible offensive."
2. "I wanted to shorten our line in the mountains and drive the enemy from commanding terrain."
3. "The eighth army had to remain active. If any army doesn't practice, it becomes soft. Then, if the enemy hits, it can't defend itself."

Van Fleet said eighth army losses in the bitter fighting on "Heartbreak Ridge" have been "moderate."

"But," he added, "in comparison to the good that has been done, they have been extremely light."

He said the communists are using "sucker tactics" in attempting to defend Korean mountain peaks. Van Fleet explained:

"The communists have been suckers. They've thrown in counter-attacks up to two regiments in size. And our artillery has moved them down."

"They have been so frantic to retain the position that their casualties have been just fantastic."

After his public announcement of the beginning of the allied autumn offensive, Van Fleet predicted that the communists will probably fight a defensive war in "the foreseeable future."

"We are still better than they are," the eighth army commander asserted during the interview in which he said that the allies did not increase their strength substantially, because they did not need to.

"He needed to build up—I didn't," summarized Van Fleet.

Built-In Fire Hazards Listed By Association

Most Fires In Homes Caused By Built-In Defects

Many homes are menaced by "built-in" fire hazards. This is the warning sounded by the National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week which is being observed October 7-13 by proclamation of President Truman.

"Built-in" is the term used by the NFPA to describe structural hazards in homes—defective chimneys and heating apparatus, combustible wood shingle roofs and faulty electrical wiring and equipment. The non-profit Fire Protection Association says its records show that approximately 50 percent of all residential fires result from these causes.

Home Loss Terrible

Official records also provide the basis for this startling statement by the NFPA: Two hundred thousand homes are destroyed or damaged by fire every year because of failure to eliminate structural hazards.

The NFPA sees greater hope for the future, however, because many home owners who are preparing to remodel or make repairs can plan now to knock out the built-in hazards which otherwise might destroy them and their homes.

Here are the NFPA's fire safety recommendations to include in remodeling plans:

The heating plant should be enclosed in masonry or some other fire-resistant wall; should stand on a concrete foundation; and the ceiling above the furnace should be covered with plaster, gypsum board or asbestos material. Make repairs promptly and clean yearly.

Clean Chimneys

Masonry chimneys should rest solidly on the ground and be free-standing. That is, they should not lend support to or be supported by the house. The chimney should be built of solid masonry units or concrete at least four inches thick and lined with fire-clay or fire-brick. There should be separate flues for each heating device. Clean the chimney once a year.

Use fire-resistant roofing such as asphalt shingles. Dried, curled, combustible wood shingles are good tinder for a spark from a chimney or other source.

Overloaded electrical circuits are a serious hazard. Before adding a new electric range or other appliances, check the wiring to be sure it is adequate. Have plenty of outlets to eliminate long extension cords. Keep appliances clean and in good working order.

The NFPA warning that "hol-low walls form a flue through which fire races from floor to floor," recommends fire stops of metal, asbestos or gypsum board at the top of the foundation wall in the basement, and noncombustible insulating material can be blown into the walls which will prevent the spread of fire.

BEAUTY SHOW

LONDON—Police in Swindon, Wiltshire, wondered why the daily police lineup had begun to look like a beauty contest. Then they discovered a practical joker was telephoning good-looking girls and "ordering" them to show up at police headquarters for "identification."

BOSTON—Nathan Gilman, letter carrier, hands out gum daily to children along his route, who greet him with cries of "Here comes the bubble gum postman."

Charges Made Against Luft

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 2.—(INS)—Film Producer Sid Luft today is expected to contend that he was ill and not drunk when he and Singer Judy Garland became involved in Hollywood's latest punching incident.

Luft appeared in police court yesterday and almost bellicosely declared his innocence of four charges lodged against him in the wake of a traffic mix-up and brawl early Sunday.

He informed the court he wanted a jury trial as soon as possible.

Municipal Judge Wallace W. Toelle Cooly looked him over and set the case for November 16.

Luft was charged with drunk driving, plain drunk, carrying a concealed weapon in his car and driving without a valid license.

After his brief court session, the producer who now devotes most of his time to being Miss Garland's business manager, told newsmen that he was "romantically linked" to the singer.

Questioned about wedding plans after his divorce from Actress Lynn Bari becomes final in December, Luft retorted: "Ask her."

A claim Luft was ill rather than drunk was made by his attorney, Robert B. Agins.

Reports that Miss Garland had been drinking also were denied by the attorney. He claimed that she was emotionally upset.

Seek Publicity For Recipients Of Federal Relief

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina called on the nation's governors today to ask Congress to give the states power to make public the names of federal relief recipients.

Byrnes told federal security administrator Oscar Ewing, during a heated panel discussion of social security:

"If we still have a Congress, it will pay more attention to the governors of the 48 states than it will to the head of any government department."

Fall Renovation Of Pastures Urged For Best Results

Fall is a good time of the year to start the renovation of a pasture that isn't making top production, says the Lawrence County Production and Marketing Administration committee. They explain that lime may be put on either before or after the pasture is plowed up. The needed fertilizer is applied the following spring before an adapted mixture of legumes and grasses is planted.

The committee points out that in the northeastern states where the Green Pasture contests have stimulated pasture improvement, many farmers believe that a pasture should be renovated unless it is furnishing from 70 to 80 per cent of the total feed requirements of the dairy herd. To indicate what good pastures mean in terms of production Harry M. Thomson, chairman of the Lawrence County Production and Marketing Administration committee, cites the results of recent tests:

In Maine an acre of native sod produced enough feed for 753 pounds of 4 per cent milk. The same pasture after renovation produced enough feed for 4,160 pounds of milk. In Pennsylvania an acre of native sod produced enough feed for 1,254 pounds of milk. After it was limed, fertilized and reseeded with a ladino clovergrass mixture, it produced feed for 10,976 pounds of milk.

In New Jersey experiment cows producing under 9,500 pounds of milk gave nearly 94 per cent as much milk on a grass diet alone as a grain-roughage diet containing a pound of grain for each three pounds of milk produced.

EL TORO, Cal.—Joseph R. Vickerman received a notice from his Wisconsin draft board to report for induction the same day he was decorated for heroism in the Korean war and received the Navy-Marine Corps medal. The Marine currently is stationed at the El Toro Marine air base.

Mexican oil production totaled 59 million barrels in 1949.

Court House

City Opposes Sale Of Lots

Ask They Be Held For New Housing

Appearing for the city of New Castle, Assistant City Solicitor Robert E. Jamison opposed the sale of 31 city lots on Becker and Scott streets Monday morning.

Mr. Jamison explained the city was desirous of using the lots in the erection of a low rental housing project. The commissioners had advertised the 31 lots for sale and sold them subject to the approval of the court.

When the matter comes before the court the city will likely enter another protest to their sale. They had been on the delinquent tax list for years and recently were divested of all liens. All of them were sold.

TWO CONTRACTS AWARDED

Two contracts were awarded Monday morning by the county commissioners, one for grading and seeding the property of the detention home and one for paving the driveway.

Howard Moore was awarded the contract for grading and seeding at his bid of $1,324.

Joseph Gennaro was awarded the contract for paving the driveway into the detention home at his bid of $1,482.20.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The ostrich—known for his hide-of-the-head technique—will become a pride-of-the-head technique for milliners this winter.

Scarcely a high-fashion hat designer this side of Rue De La Pais is showing a collection without emphasis on his plumes.

And the ostrich, who has been consistently revived to style every decade or so since the over-dressed days of Louis XIV, is once again the bride among birds!

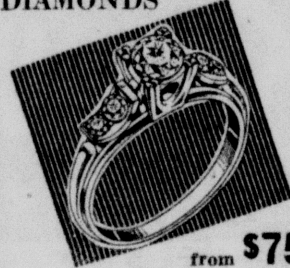

Ostrich feathers are still considered most effective in hatwear when they are allowed to fluff to their chic content. But some milliners are so sold on ostrich as millinery material for all-day-around wear that they're clipping the plumes, dyeing them in vivid colors, and turning them into casual daytime hats.

Luckily for still-kicking ostriches, the trend will probably not last long. It's part of the rebirth of a Victorian trend in ready-to-wear, and predictions are rampant that the Victorian look will do well to "click" in style till mid-spring, 1952.

So women on a budget might do well to ostracize the ostrich!

California's approximately 10.5 million population is the result of a 50 percent increase in a decade.

First Atomic Troop Maneuvers Planned At Nevada Project

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Preparations for history's first atomic troop maneuvers were in their final stage of planning today.

The maneuvers, designated "Operation Desert Rock", will be staged within the next few days on the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test range, 65 miles north-east of Las Vegas.

The operation will revolve around a battalion of infantry and the use of five or six detonations of sub-critical size atomic weapons.

By sub-critical size the authorities mean bombs that are smaller than those used in World War II. However, they are powerful enough to be the equivalent of 5,000 to 40,000 tons of TNT.

If the approaching tests, which will include at least one explosion underground, are as successful as the military scientists think they will be, the United States immediately will go into large-scale production of atomic weapons.

Five thousand troops are now on the Nevada range in readiness for the militarily historic maneuvers.

Believe Russians Foster Unification Plan For Germany

PARIS, Oct. 2.—(INS)—French Foreign Office sources said today that French experts on Soviet policy believe Russia is likely to propose a four-power conference soon on unification of Germany.

The Russian basis for the talks, it was believed, would be the recent proposal by East German Premier Otto Grotewohl that delegates from the two German Republics should meet to arrange nationwide "free elections."

Grotewohl's proposal was made with the endorsement of the Soviet control commission.

Escaping Fumes Fatal To Infant

The dead boy was Richard Aument. His mother, Mrs. James Aument, two sisters and a brother were taken to the hospital in serious condition.

City Opposes Sale Of Lots

Ask They Be Held For New Housing

Appearing for the city of New Castle, Assistant City Solicitor Robert E. Jamison opposed the sale of 31 city lots on Becker and Scott streets Monday morning.

Mr. Jamison explained the city was desirous of using the lots in the erection of a low rental housing project. The commissioners had advertised the 31 lots for sale and sold them subject to the approval of the court.

When the matter comes before the court the city will likely enter another protest to their sale. They had been on the delinquent tax list for several years and were divested of all liens. All of them were sold.

TWO CONTRACTS AWARDED

Two contracts were awarded Monday morning by the county commissioners, one for grading and sealing the property of the detention home and one for paving the driveway.

Howard Moore was awarded the contract for grading and sealing at his bid of $1,324.

Joseph Glavin was awarded the contract for paving the driveway into the detention home at his bid of $1,482.20.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHILLIS HATFIELD

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(INS)—The ostrich—known for his hide-of-the-head technique—will become a pride-of-the-head technique for milliners this winter.

Scarcely a high-fashion hat designer this side of the La Paris is showing a collection without emphasis on his plumes.

And the ostrich, who has been consistently reviled to style every decade or so since the overdone days of Louis XIV, is once again the bride among birds.

Ostrich feathers are still considered most effective in hats when they are allowed to fluff to their chic content. But some milliners are so sold on ostrich as a military material for all-day-round wear that they're clipping the plumes, dyeing them in vivid colors, and turning them into casual daytime hats.

Luckily for still-living ostriches, the trend will probably not last long. It's part of the rebirth of a victorian trend in ready-to-wear, and predictions are rampant that the victorian look will do well to "stick" in style till mid-spring, 1952.

So women on a budget might do well to outpace the ostrich!

California's approximately 10.5 million population is the result of a 50 percent increase in a decade.

First Atomic Troop Maneuvers Planned At Nevada Project

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 2.—(INS)—Preparations for history's first atomic troop maneuvers were in their final stage of planning today.

The maneuvers, designated "Operation Desert Rock," will be staged within the next few days on the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test range, 65 miles north-east of Las Vegas.

The operation will revolve around a battalion of infantry and the use of five or six detonations of sub-critical size atomic weapons. By sub-critical size the authorities mean bombs that are smaller than those used in World War II. However, they are powerful enough to be the equivalent of 5,000 to 40,000 tons of TNT.

If the approaching tests, which will include at least one explosion underground, are as successful as the military scientists think they will be, the United States immediately will go into large-scale production of atomic weapons.

Five thousand troops are now on the Nevada range in readiness for the militarily historic maneuvers.

Truman's Order May Result In Congress Battle

President Denies Censorship Is Aim Of Recent Order

By JAMES LEE
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—President Truman on Monday refused to withdraw his order authorizing federal agencies to clamp a security ban on information and a hot battle in Congress appeared certain.

The White House said Mr. Truman had no intention whatever of canceling the order, which Republicans have attacked as an "intemperate" move to choke off criticism of the administration.

Sen. Mundt (R) S. D., urged swift enactment of a bill to quash the Presidential order, which Mundt called "a dangerous impingement on freedom of the press."

The South Dakotan was one of 25 GOP Senators who have charged in a public statement that the President's action proves the Administration is "unable to tolerate criticism."

Denies Censorship Aim

Mr. Truman has denied that the order has any "element of censorship" and has pledged that it would not be used to keep the public in the dark about governmental activities.

White House spokesman Joseph Short, asked whether as a result of GOP criticism the chief executive had any intention of withdrawing the order, snapped this reply:

"None whatsoever. There is nothing wrong with the order."

The order directed suppression of all information which should be safeguarded "in the interest of national security." Republican opposition came from the House as well as the Senate.

Rep. Bishop (R) Ill., said he will demand that the Joint Congressional committee on disposition of executive papers take action against the censorship authority. Bishop is a member of the committee.

Sens. Bricker (R) Ohio, and Capehart (R) Ind., two of the administration's severest critics, have introduced a bill to repeal the President's order and to prohibit "unreasonable suppression of information" by the executive branch of the government.

Supporters of the Bricker-Capehart bill pointed out that the President's action came at a time when Congressional investigations of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. and other government agencies have focused national attention on the activities of public servants.

Ridgway-Bradley Decorate Heroes

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 2.—(INS)—An American master sergeant and the captain son of a famous general were decorated at the Korean front Monday by Generals Omar N. Bradley and Matthew B. Ridgway.

Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, pinned the silver star on M/Sgt. Jack P. Brown of Houston, Tex., for bravery at Chipyong.

Ridgway, United Nations supreme commander, awarded the silver star to Capt. William D. Clark, son of Gen. Mark W. Clark, World War II hero and chief of the army's field forces.

After the battle front awards were made, Capt. Clark said to Gen. Bradley:

"Send my love back to my family, sir."

Corporal Cromie Honored In Korea

WITH THE 7TH INF. DIV., Korea—Cpl. Lawrence M. Cromie, Tulagi Way, New Castle, recently was authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit emblem as a member of the 32nd "Queen's Own" Infantry Regiment, which has received the award.

The regiment was cited in a ceremony near the front in Korea for "outstanding performance of duty and extraordinary heroism in action against the armed enemy."

The citation reads in part: "The unit displayed such gallantry, determination and esprit de corps as to set it apart and above other units participating in the action."

Cromie is a rifleman with the regiment's Company I.

Dr. C. Liem Is Speaker At YW

Conference Held With Dinner-Program

Speaking before a capacity audience at the Setting-Up Conference of the Y.W.C.A. on Monday-evening, Dr. Channing Liem, political science chairman of the Pennsylvania College for Women, gave a splendid address, its timely significance being of great importance.

"The Recipe For Democracy's Victory in China," was the topic of Dr. Liem's talk. Early in his address, Dr. Liem asked, "Why Have the Chinese gone Communist?" In answering he stated that it is not because they are anti-democratic nor because of any dislike of America nor is it because they like Russia.

"The Chinese," Dr. Liem, who is a native of Korea, explained, "went Communist because they as a people had undergone a great change and wanted something that neither the United States nor Chiang Kai-shek could give them. They had no alternative; they were temporarily fooled by Soviet propaganda; they want to really live; they want security when old."

"It is a matter of historical record," Dr. Liem declared, "that relations between China and the United States have been much happier than between China and Russia. A great difference also exists between China and Russia. On account of the Confucian tradition the Chinese over a period of 3,000 years have been taught disregard for government; that government is unimportant. On the other hand Russians believe their government is all important and can do no wrong."

Torn By Civil Strife
"Also," Dr. Liem said, "with their country torn by civil strife, over a period of years, the Chinese yielded to the promises for peace and security made by the Soviets. On the surface the Chinese are courteous to the Soviets but underneath they plan to be their own masters."

"Why did China enter the Korean war?" In answering this he stated that it wasn't because Russia wanted her to; but because China did not want Russia to get Korea.

"In winning China to the side of America, Dr. Liem pointed out Americans must convince people around the world it is truly democratic and must do this not by our tongues but by the way we live. Make Orientals here feel comfortable and at home. Give aid to people in other countries, especially in Indonesia and Burma. United States, said the speaker, must decide whether to act emotionally or intellectually.

Asked which side of China did he favor being admitted to the United Nations, Dr. Liem said emphatically, "neither of them. We in the West are not interested in having a communist China nor a nationalist China enter the family of nations. We do want a united China in the family, however."

Dr. Liem closed his splendid talk with the plea to continue to have hope, to have patience and above all to think coolly. A period of stimulating questions and answers followed.

Mrs. George D. Morris, general chairman of the Setting-up conference presided. Mrs. W. L. Cosel introduced Dr. Liem. In her brief remarks she stated that the YWCA is one of the rare places where people of all races, nationalities and social levels really meet on common ground. Appreciation was extended to Mrs. Thomas L. Nelson and Mrs. Charles Campbell for a delicious supper, served cafeteria style.

ceive a graded salary which starts at $3,000 per year and reaches a top of $3,850 after four years. Salaries for the police bureau totaled $4,990,595 in the 1951 budget to cover 1,456 persons—1,200 are officers in uniform.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

A Light In The Room?

When our children were very young, in the early '30's, we parents were supposed to be very strict about bedtime. And it was considered one of the major sins to give in to any fear the child might have about the dark. We shut the door kindly but firmly and let him know we would have none of that foolishness.

This, of course, was what we were supposed to do. Fortunately, many of us couldn't be quite so firm. We left the door open a crack so a little light could come in. Or we made other compromises.

How the pendulum has swung! Today, many a child psychologist says in effect, "It's not going to spoil your child to make him feel he's not so all alone. And he'll get over any fear of the dark he may have in time. It's better to have a low light in his room than to have him really frightened."

Of course, we expect the young'uns to learn to be by themselves, to learn to enjoy being alone happily night or day. But we don't need to push it. And if a low light will comfort the child who is uneasy, by all means use it. As he grows older, we can help him get along without it. In the meantime, it would be gross exaggeration to say that we're spoiling him by providing such a comfort.

September Fire Loss Is Small

One of the smallest fire losses in many months was reported for the month of September by Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink. The total loss was only $595, damage to buildings amounting to $320, and to the contents, $275.

Valuation of the property involved in fires was $112,000, the fire chief stated.

There were 29 alarms answered during the month, of which 16 were still alarms, two were false, and one was for an auto fire. Fires were encountered in three dwellings, six were in manufacturing establishments, and three were in mercantile establishments.

In addition, to the fires, the chief's car was used to remove a man to a hospital, and firemen assisted in removing a cat from a sewer, and helped a woman gain entrance to her home, who had been locked out and forgot her key.

MILK HAS SAME VALUES AS YOGURT

Although the fad for using yogurt has pretty much swept the country, sales now seem to be dropping off. Many people have not cared for the taste of yogurt or have found it too expensive. These people should remember that the essential ingredient of yogurt, which gives it its beneficial values, is milk. The same values are in milk.

If each person uses three to four cups of milk a day, either as a beverage, or in cooked foods, he can benefit his own health without using unusual or more expensive substitutes.

Commercially, yogurt is made by starting with fresh whole milk, pasteurized and somewhat condensed to give it a thicker consistency. Sometimes a dry skim milk is added to whole milk to thicken it. A culture of bacteria is then introduced and the milk held under carefully controlled conditions.

Since sanitation and temperature conditions must be carefully controlled, it is hard to make good yogurt at home. There is danger of contamination with undesirable bacteria at the warm temperature needed for incubation.

Yogurt is excellent in food values. Its acidity makes it more digestible for persons who do not secrete enough acid in the stomach. The same effect is obtained if they use buttermilk or soured whole milk. Some persons who secrete excess acid may actually be harmed by using yogurt. Normal persons do not need the acid and can get the same food values from milk itself.

The leader of the Pope's Noble Guard, founded by Pius VII in 1801, is always a Roman prince.

Dried or evaporated milk furnish in less expensive forms the same values found in yogurt.

Seeks To Bring Walton Plan Of Lots Into City

J. C. Gillman appeared before council Monday which met in city hall and said he was desirous of having 200 to 400 lots in the Walton plan admitted inside the city, providing sewer service could be had.

The lots extend from the city line to Graceland road. Mr. Gillman asked council to have the city engineer make a survey. Mayor Brown said he believed the survey should be made by Gillman's engineer but said the city engineer would be willing to cooperate.

Work Of V.A. Is Explained

Maurice S. Zeigler
Speaks To Rotary

In an occupational talk, given before the New Castle Rotary Club, Monday noon, in The Cretion, Maurice S. Zeigler, officer in charge of the U. S. Veterans Bureau here, a member of the local club, explained the workings of the Veterans Administration, and the function the local office serves.

The Veterans Administration, he stated, is an independent bureau, not connected with any other branch of our Federal government and was organized to serve the interests of veterans and their dependents.

There are many conscientious workers in the Veterans Administration, who are endeavoring to serve the best interests of those who have served their country in the armed forces, or of their dependents, he stated.

Budget Dropping
Since World War Two, the budget has been gradually decreased from the six billion figure appropriated in 1946, and this year amounts to three billion six hundred millions, serving something like 19,000,000 veterans and their dependents. Close to fifty per cent of the population of the United States has a direct interest in its functions, he stated.

There are 13 district offices, with the central office being located in Washington, D. C. Under the district office, are 70 regional offices, such as the one located at Pittsburgh, and under the regional offices, are a number of contact offices, such as the one located here.

The district offices adjudicate all death claims and National Life Insurance Claims. The regional offices adjudicate claims in active veterans cases.

Serve Many Here
During the past year, the local office had 7,200 personal contacts in addition to phone calls, and letters. In addition to Mr. Zeigler, the office is served by William Tebay, training officer who specializes in on the job training and rehabilitation training for veterans, and a clerk-stenographer.

Under the Veterans Administration, there are 164 hospitals, which serve the health of veterans, and 14 centers, or domiciliary homes, where elderly veterans, who are homeless, can go and spend their declining days. There are also 15 centers, which combine the functions of hospitals and domiciliary homes, he explained.

Two new hospitals are being erected in the Pittsburgh district. One will be for mental cases, with a 760-bed capacity, and a general hospital, with a capacity of 750 beds.

These hospitals, he stated, have the finest equipment possible, and facilities for research work.

Make No Decisions
The local offices make no decisions, merely serving as a contact between the veteran and the regional or district offices, assisting them and their dependents with claims. They must keep up to date on all changes in laws affecting the veteran, as well as all state bonus laws. They also assist with G. I. loans, which are expected to reach their peak within the next few years. Benefits under the plan expire in 1957.

All veterans injured in line of duty, or wounded, are entitled to compensation, which ranges from $15 per month for ten per cent disability to $150 for total disability, with additional amounts where the veteran needs a caretaker. Pensions are granted for non-service-connected disability, ranging from $10 to $50 per month, and up to $72, with a maximum of $120 for those who need a caretaker, he stated in conclusion.

Guests of the club, included: Carl C. Hall, Orlando, Fla.; Dave Porter, Slippery Rock; J. A. Eubank, Rosy White, and Dr. Will

Work Of V.A. Is Explained

Maurice S. Zeigler Speaks To Rotary

In an occupational talk, given before the New Castle Rotary Club, Monday noon, in the Castle Hotel, Maurice S. Zeigler, officer in charge of the U. S. Veterans Bureau here, a member of the local club, explained the workings of the Veterans Administration, and the function of the local office.

The Veterans Administration, he stated, is an independent bureau, not connected with any other branch of the Federal Government, and was organized to serve the interests of veterans and their dependents.

There are many conscientious workers in the Veterans Administration, who are endeavoring to serve the best interests of those who have served their country in the armed forces, or of their dependents, he stated.

Budget Dropping

Since World War Two, the budget has been gradually decreased from the six billion figure appropriated in 1940, and this year amounts to three billion six hundred millions, he stated.

There are 13 district offices, with the central office being located in Washington, D. C. Under the district office, are 70 regional offices, such as the one located at Pittsburgh, and under the regional offices, are a number of contact offices, such as the one located here.

The district offices adjudicate all death claims and National Life Insurance Claims. The regional offices adjudicate claims in active veterans cases.

Serve Many Here

During the past year, the local office had 7,700 personal contacts in addition to phone calls, and letters. In addition to Mr. Zeigler, the office is served by William Telny, training officer who speaks lizes in on the job training and rehabilitation training for veterans, and a clerk-stenographer.

Under the Veterans Administration, there are 164 hospitals, which serve the health of veterans, and 14 centers, or domiciliary homes, where elderly veterans, who are homeless, can go and spend their declining days. There are also 16 centers, which combine the functions of hospitals and domiciliary homes, he explained.

Two new hospitals are being erected in the Pittsburgh district. One will be for mental cases, with a 700-bed capacity, and a general hospital, with a capacity of 750 beds.

These hospitals, he stated, have the finest equipment possible, and facilities for research work.

Make No Decisions

The local offices make no decisions, merely serving as a contact between the veteran and the regional or district office, assisting them and their dependents with claims. They must keep up to date on all changes in laws affecting the veteran, as well as all state income laws. They also assist with C. I. loans, which are expected to reach their peak within the next few years. Benefits under the plan expire in 1957.

All veterans injured in line of duty, or wounded, are entitled to compensation, which ranges from $15 per month for ten per cent disability to $150 for total disability, with additional amounts where the veteran needs a caretaker. Pensions are granted for service-connected disability, ranging from $10 to $30 per month, and up to $72, with a maximum of $120 for those who need a caretaker, he stated in conclusion.

Guests of the club included: Carl C. Hall, Orlando, Fla.; Dave Porter, Slippery Rock; J. A. Eubank, Rosy White, and Dr. Will

Or, New Wilmington; Alex Zeigler, Salvation Army, Youngstown; and Robert Long and Russell Druschel, of New Castle.

A Message to MARRIED MEN...AND WOMEN 20 to 45 years young

You are able to get life insurance today at uniquely favorable rates with unusually liberal conditions because just 25 years ago a handful of Ohio farm families started this new kind of insurance company.

These folks had a background of self-help and teamwork, and they were determined to get more fairly priced insurance protection for themselves and their neighbors. They succeeded. Through sound, thrifty management, they were able to expand their insurance service... and continue to save money for policyholders. Because service to people rather than private gain was and is the guiding principle of the organization... the fame of Farm Bureau insurance spread. Today, the three Farm Bureau insurance companies are among the largest, soundest, most useful business enterprises in all America... and serve more than a million and a half families in the cities and on farms in a dozen states.

One of the most warmly-welcomed insurance plans is our Family Income Plan, designed specifically for the young, growing family of modest income. At low cost, it lifts such a big load of worry from the head of the family that new policyholders sometimes reproach us for not having told them about this Plan before.

Veterans Post Given License

HARRISBURG, Oct. 2.—(INS)—A Union county Veterans Post today was reported by the State Liquor Control Board to be the recipient of the first retail license granted on the basis of the 1950 census.

The retail club license went to the Yoder-Zimmerman Home Association of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in West Buffalo township near Milltown.

Inasmuch as the township population increased from 933 to 1015 in the 10 years ended in 1950, the quota law allowed one more license in the sub-division.

One retail license is in effect and is counted in the quota limit which permits one per 1000 population. A hotel liquor license in the township is not counted against the quota.

A Message to MARRIED MEN...AND WOMEN
20 to 45 years young

You are able to get life insurance today at uniquely favorable rates with unusually liberal conditions because just 26 years ago a handful of Ohio farm families started this new kind of insurance company.

These folks had a background of self-help and teamwork, and they were determined to get more fairly priced insurance protection for themselves and their neighbors. They succeeded. Through sound, thrifty management, they were able to expand their insurance service ... and continue to save money for policyholders. Because service to people rather than private gain was and is the guiding principle of the organization ... the fame of Farm Bureau insurance spread. Today, the three Farm Bureau insurance companies are among the largest, soundest, most useful business enterprises in all America ... and serve more than a million and a half families in the cities and on farms in a dozen states.

One of the most warmly-welcomed insurance plans is our Family Income Plan, designed specifically for the young, growing family of modest income. At low cost, it lifts such a big load of worry from the head of the family that new policyholders sometimes reproach us for not having told them about this Plan before.

That's why we're taking this opportunity to tell you about it now. It's a very flexible Plan and can be tailored to fit your special needs.

If you don't mail the coupon right away, hold on to it anyway, because sooner or later you'll want to get some information about Farm Bureau insurance. The protection you need probably costs much less than you expect.

2 Big Reasons Why Pittsburgh SUN-PROOF House Paint Looks Better Longer!

1. Resists coal smoke and industrial fumes! 2. Washes itself with each rain!

There's longer wear in every brushful of new SUN-PROOF house paint. Not only does it give you a film of unusual whiteness, but it really stays whiter longer!

Coal smoke or industrial fumes will not darken or discolor SUN-PROOF because it's fume-proof. That's why it's especially good for painting homes in industrial areas where paint is often attacked by factory gases. SUN-PROOF is self-cleaning, too—surface dirt is carried off with each rain. Special "Vitalized Oils" keep paint film tough and elastic, providing long-lasting live-paint protection.

Church Exterior Nears Completion

Exterior appearance of the new Central Presbyterian church, being erected on the Wilmington road site in Neshannock township, is about complete. The steeple, last effort in the exterior construction has been erected and the false work removed, so that the church now presents a near completed view. Completion of work on the interior will take months, and the church will probably now be in use before early next year.

2 Big Reasons Why Pittsburgh SUN-PROOF House Paint Looks Better Longer!

1. Resists coal smoke and industrial fumes! 2. Washes itself with each rain!

There's longer wear in every brushful of new SUN-PROOF house paint. Not only does it give you a film of unusual whiteness, but it really stays white longer!

Coal smoke or industrial fumes will not darken or discolor SUN-PROOF because it's luminescent. That's why it's especially good for painting homes in industrial areas where paint is often attacked by factory gases. SUN-PROOF is self-cleaning, too—surface dirt is carried off with each rain. Special "Widened Oil" keeps paint film tough and elastic, providing long-lasting, life-long protection.
